☆☆☆ Integrity ☆☆☆

Nasir Cali

- He is honest. He doesn't twist or make things complicated. ●
- However, he adheres to strong moral and ethical principles but still finds a way to makes situation easy and straight forward. ●
- Sometimes, people find him not outspoken but I believe he is strong enough for this but speaks reasonably, sensibly and according to situation. I really wish him to win. ●

The Nursing Team. Rosemary Parkes, Edyta Chowaniec,
Parvin Bhanu, Tolulope Araba and Abbie Harris

The nursing team for the ATPs have worked so hard and well together since I took the role of lead nurse. We've had a few years of staff changing but they have continued to work hard, including working Saturdays in the flu clinics and doing additional hours tomorrow cover clinics. Their enthusiasm, kindness to the patients and each other has not gone unrecognised. They deserve a massive well done and thank you from myself, their support has been invaluable. I'd like them all to be recognised for this.

Roxana Gheorghita

She always here, always willing to listen and help you with any problems, throws herself in any work task.

★★★★★ Trust ★★★★★

Peter Gill

Extremely knowledgeable, can trust him to give appropriate guidance.

☆☆☆ Kindness ☆☆☆

Shaurya Dayal

Providing care and advise to patients, always willing to see patient even if they are late. We are receiving a lot of positive feedbacks after they have seen physio! well done! & I would like to nominate Shaurya for the Kindness award. They consistently demonstrate compassion and dedication while supporting patients.

He always ensures that each patient feels heard, cared for, and empowered throughout their recovery journey. Their thoughtful approach includes not only providing excellent care but also identifying when a referral is necessary, always prioritizing the patient's best interests. This ability to collaborate effectively and make appropriate referrals ensures that patients receive the specialized support they need promptly.

He truly embodies our value of kindness by fostering a warm, supportive environment for both patients and colleagues. Thank you for your ongoing support! & Shaurya is always supporting the patient and even seeing them if they are late!

☆☆☆ Empowerment ☆☆☆

Valeria Didenco

Valeria has provided a huge amount of support to multiple services when there have been shortfalls in staffing, ensuring that we can maintain a high level of patient care.
